

Oakland Evening Tribune.

VOL. III. NO. 155. OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 25, 1874. (Per Week, 10 cts. Per Year, $4 00.)

All Sorts of Paragraphs.

—Mottoes for the married—Never dispair.
—Hydro is the pet name applied to dog now.
—Is "stealing a march" worse than "taking a walk?"
—What man is mentioned before Adam? Chap. 1st.
—Last Paris quotations for confides—Chige non est.
—Pyrotechnical remedy for crying infants—Rock-et.
—A bud sign—To sign another man's name to a note.
—Transported for life—A man who marries happily.
—Hydrophobia is not more mysterious than rheumatism is.
—Albany is the most fortunate city in the Union as regards fires.
—France has rejected the match tax and Italy refuses to tax pianos.
—The Linbhorn hat of the season only needs one shower of rain to wilt it.
—When a shoemaker loses his awl nobody starts a subscription list.
—The most dangerous thing to meddle with is the new monogram fan.
—Never keep a pack of cards in the same pocket as your handkerchief.
—Italian penmen make the upward stroke heavy, the downward light.
—The screw-driver begins to loom up as a natty little instrument of murder.
—What woman is mentioned in the Scriptures before Eve?—Jenny Siss.
—"Don't drink rye whisky at Rye Beach if you would live," says a letter writer.
—In the fashionable religious phraseology of the day hell is "the great elsewhere."
—The first female Fourth of July orator is a Miss Blake, who "orated" at East Orange, N. J.
—There is no material difference between a loafer and a lover. [Opinion of an old maid.]
—At Newport lap dogs have gone out of fashion, and the ladies hold kittens while driving.
—You can't eat enough in a week to last you a year, and you can't advertise on that plan either.
—It is the fashion now to say that a man a little the worse for liquor is on a "Grecian Bend."
—It requires strategy and consummate art to discover how the women keep their stockings up.
—Q. How long can a goose stand on one foot? A. Try it—that's the way the geese found out.
—He who thinks too much of himself will be in danger of being forgotten by the rest of the world.
—If you haven't a good situation go to some friend who has and try to "Put yourself in his place."
—To preserve the health give it but little thought, and read no medical publications whatever.
—California young men wear their stovepipe hats in the theaters in revenge for the ladies' high bonnets.
—Nine judges out of ten are bald-headed, and why is it? asks the Boston Post. Because they are married.
—A New Yorker has demonstrated, to his own satisfaction, that mosquitoes are nothing but a nuisance.
—The man who went to sleep on the railroad track found his rest was a good deal broken—and his legs too.
—These are the days to try one's temper. No man's cholera can remain intact, especially if it is a paper one.
—Refusal on the part of a husband to push the baby-wagon on Sundays is to be made ground for a divorce.
—An Atlanta negro has invented a patent fly brush, which can be attached to the table and moved by the foot.
—The Western women have, in a great degree, stopped praying in public, and are making up their summer clothes.
—A lightning-rod man was struck by the electric the other day in Hartford, while affixing a rod, and all Hartford is happy.
—"Carbolic acid plentifully sprinkled in a room will drive out the flies." And the human occupants, too.—Washington Star.
—Another cure for rheumatism is free use of asparagus. This plant has the effect of neutralizing the lactic acid in the system.
—The Albany Times demonstrates on authority of an eminent dentist that the immoderate use of ice water tends to destroy the teeth.
—A Detroit boy propounds the awful query: "Which had you rather do, be eaten by a tiger or have all the maple sugar you can swallow?"
—The excuse of a young lady to her minister, who caught her napping, was, "Don't you think that ladies had better be fast a-leep than fast awake?"
—A lecturer aptly demonstrates the theory that heat generates motion by pointing to a boy who accidentally set down on a piece of lighted punk.
—The season approaches when it will be, perhaps, well enough to remember that the scratch of a yellow cat is, good for mosquito bites.—Brooklyn Argus.
—In Iceland they have no titles—not even plain "Mr." or "Mrs." A man is simply Sigurd, or whatever else his name is, and his wife or daughter is Ingaberd.
—"My hand is not a lemon nor my lips dear meat," as the young lady said to her escort when they parted at the door the other night. Why did she speak thusly?

SWINTON AND AGASSIZ ON UNIVERSITY MANAGEMENT.
Swinton, in his paper prepared at the request of the joint committee of the last Legislature, speaking of the relations of the Regents to the Faculty, said:
"I feel bold to say that the University of California cannot rest on a sound foundation until there is a rational readjustment of power between the Regents and the Faculty. The relations of the Faculty to the Regents have become more and more that of 'employees' to an employer, while the relations of the Regents to the people seem to be less and less those of employed and employer. And between Faculty and Board there is nothing like correlation of rights. The greatest discovery of modern political science is the introduction of checks and balances, as guards against the absolutism of power lodged in the hands of any single body. But, with no power in the hands of the Faculty, and all power in the hands of the Regents, there has ensued the necessary consequence—timidity on the one hand, and despotism on the other. In this state of affairs, however willing to voice the Faculty, would, from the very constitution of human nature, be sure in the long run to go where power lay. I believe President Gilman has been acute enough to see this, and to act accordingly. Now, if in this state of affairs we suppose a President to have some special educational 'crank,' bias, or prejudice (say, opposition to industrial education), he might, being wholly independent of the Faculty, by assiduous court paid to the Regents, succeed in bringing them over to his 'policy,' and thus in placing the University in an utterly false position."
General Eaton, United States Commissioner of Education, in his last published report of the Bureau of Education, cites in connection with the college statistics of the United States, the thoughts of the lamented Agassiz upon the subject of our higher education. He says:
"Our distinguished and venerated citizen, Prof. Louis Agassiz, of Cambridge, Mass., once expressed opinions in the course of a conversation in this office which I had his permission to publish, and to which I would call attention in connection with these statistics."
The following paragraph is the part to which we would call special attention at this time. With how much greater force it applies to the University of California than to any other in the country, its present lamentable position before the country and the world testifies. It is well for Agassiz that he was not an "employee" of our Board of Regents, else he would without doubt have been summarily dismissed for disloyalty, though most likely the charge would have been incompetency, or that he had written books.
"The very fact that there is no university in the United States the intellectual interests of which are managed by professors, but always by a corporation outside, shows that we do not understand what a university is. The men who are in it must know better what are the wants of an institution of learning than outsiders. I believe there is no scientific man who will concede that there can be a university managed to the best advantage by anybody but those interested in its pursuits, and no body of trustees can be so interested."
"Not only do material restrictions hamper the instructors, but who is the man who knows what is best to teach? And you see every organization, every college which is got up by outsiders, has to prosecute a curriculum, and the Professors have to teach that. That is all wrong for a university, but not for a high school. And that is why we have no university and no students of a higher order coming to us from the Old World. That is as plain as daylight. Those are the essential conditions of a university."

THEATRE AGAIN.
The selling of Brayton Hall, etc., and the agitation of the theater question, has had its effect in developing a resolution in the Council to inquire into the expediency of finishing up the City Hall. The upper part of that interesting structure remains a barren pile of lumber on the inside, and the idea of the author of that resolution is a good one.

But the City Hall can only supply a certain want. It can never be made to suffice for any first-class concert or theatrical performance. The City Hall cannot be made to take the place of Brayton Hall, except for a few things, and yet there are many uses that the large room in the city building could be put to, which seem to demand that it be finished and suitably furnished.

The Court House, however, will soon be finished, and that will no doubt contain a fine room for a certain kind of public assemblages outside of judicial business, after the manner of the City Hall, as proposed, and so there is little or no excuse left for the absence of a snitable theater building. When Brayton Hall goes, everybody will go to San Francisco, and with it the general spending money of Oakland.

Is there any law, State or municipal, to prohibit gambling with dice or cards? If there is, why do not the police authorities endeavor to suppress some of the gambling games which are openly carried on in this city. Some of the cigar stands and saloons are little better than gambling dens. Many of these places have convenient back rooms where young men congregate and indulge in "poker," "seven-up" or dice-throwing to the extent of their limited means. The games are of course profitable to the proprietors of the places, for the young neophytes in the accursed vice generally manage to spend a good share of their combined capital for cigars or liquors before leaving. Frequently dice throwing for money is carried on in full view of people passing along the sidewalks, yet we have never heard of an instance of police interference to stop the gaming. Of late, the evil seems to be on the increase, and it is time vigorous measures were inaugurated to check it. Let the police exercise their authority, if they possess any, and put a stop to this vice which is becoming a public nuisance.

There was rather an amusing muddle and hitch in the Council last night on a question of parliamentary rules, or rather there ought to have been no question about it. The Mayor did not sign the fire ordinance, which otherwise was fully passed as a local law. The Mayor wanted certain amendments made, and so recommended. The author of the ordinance fancied that these changes could be written into the body of the main ordinance, and the whole passed over the Mayor's head, regardless of all previous action on that document. The old man Spaulding was for shoving the doctored instrument along also. It would seem that he ought to have learned enough of parliamentary rules ere this to have seen the absurdity of the proposition at once. However, the City Attorney seemed equal to the emergency, and after several efforts he succeeded in making the average member understand the situation, or at least affect to, and vote accordingly.

It was characteristic of old man Spaulding to effect a sudden adjournment last night, before the police department was "reorganized." Two weeks will give plenty of time, perhaps, to farther thwart the wishes of the people—as well as a majority of the Council. "Blood is thicker than water," and the nice little family arrangement between the Old Man of the Council and the figure-head of the police force must not go down as long as there is a hope to hang to. It is all too thin, gentlemen. Reduce him to the ranks or off with his head. It has been going on long enough.

The too common complaint against our Oakland firmen is, that they frequently—specially after a fire—make the bystanders and some other innocent parties their sport by turning the hose on them. It is reported that this was done last night by some of the Felton Company. We do not know how much truth there is in it this time, but there has been about enough of such cases of hoodlumism heretofore. It is hoped that now that the department is "reorganized," that there will be some tone and dignity as well as decency in it.

And now Susan B. Anthony says she didn't sit in Theodore's lap, and that Bessie is a liar. If Susan were within reaching distance she would probably fondly caress the charming Bessie, lovingly toy with her wavy ringlets and—scratch the little husky's eyes out! This great social maelstrom in Brooklyn is gradually but surely gathering in the driftwood of society. Who's the next victim?

"What," asks the Toledo Democrat, "shall we do with our boys?" If they are likely to turn out to be such men as the fathers, we would advise you to shoot them.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE scramble for local items for the News must be acting on instructions from his employer respecting the items that savor at all of the saloons. His highly colored report of an outrage on a woman Saturday night was all aimed at the saloon people, instead of at the young men who were charged with committing the offense. Even they are proven innocent by the woman herself. The Alta will hereafter know where not to look for reliable Oakland items.

The Oakland News, treating of University matters, proposes Moulton as a candidate for Professor of Agriculture. If it meant Moulder, why, the mistake is very rough on that gentleman. Would not a libel suit lie on that?—Alta.
There is no law for libel against idiots.

AUCTION!

E. C. SESSIONS & CO
OAKLAND.
REGENTS SALE OF UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA
PROPERTY AT BRAYTON HALL,
OAKLAND,
SATURDAY.
Saturday, Sept. 19, '74,
AT 2 O'CLOCK P. M.

The Regents of University of California by virtue of authority legally vested in them, having by formal action of the Board determined to sell at PUBLIC AUCTION, that very desirable property recently occupied by the University, situated in the City of Oakland, and known as blocks
One Hundred and Seventy-three,
One Hundred and Ninety-two,
One Hundred and Ninety-three,
Also the structure known as the COLLEGE OF CALIFORNIA BUILDING, being situated on block 173;
Also the SPANISH BUILDING fronting on Harrison street, being 35x60 feet, three stories high, and subdivided into small rooms suitable for a hotel building;
Also the structure known as the BOARDING HOUSE, and now standing partially on Thirteenth street, being 50x30 feet, with L 2x3x3;
Also small brick building 6x14, also sheds, fencing, out-houses, furniture, water pipes, gas-furnaces and other detached property on the grounds;
Hersby announce that the sale of said property will take place at Brayton Hall, Oakland, on the 19th day of September, 1874,
At 2 o'clock P. M., by E. C. SESSIONS & CO., Real Estate Auctioneers, under the management of H. A. COBB, Auctioneer of the firm of Maurice Dore & Co.
Each block will be sold in twelve large subdivisions, 5x100 each.

TERMS OF SALE:
One-quarter Cash;
One-quarter in One Year;
One-quarter in Two Years;
One-quarter in Three Years.
Deferred payments bearing interest at the rate of eight (8) per cent, per annum, payable quarterly. Principal and interest payable in United States gold coin. Ten per cent, deposits payable upon fall of the hammer, balance of cash payment on delivery of deed, and if not so paid, unless for want of title, (ten days being allowed for search,) then said ten per cent, to be forfeited and the sale to be void.
Instruments of sale at purchasers expense.
An abstract of title can be seen at the office of the Auctioneers.
All sales subject to confirmation by the Board of Regents.
We would call special attention to the many desirable features attending this sale. The entire property is centrally located and eligible in all respects. Twelfth street, one of Oakland's great thoroughfares, is universally acknowledged, in point of importance and future prospects, to be second only to Broadway, which is distant one block westerly from the above described property. The entire Twelfth street frontage can be immediately and remuneratively improved for business purposes, and the balance of the property will soon be required for similar uses. The Grand Central Hotel is diagonally opposite, and the City Hall, City Market and many valuable business improvements within a short distance. The concentration in the immediate vicinity of all the horse railroad lines, and main arteries of approach from the country, guarantee rapid and steady increase in value. The mildness of climate, educational facilities, frequency and accessibility of communication with San Francisco, the intended improvement of the Oakland Harbor by the United States Government (now ordered) the rapid increase of population and the many other favorable features well known to the community, cause Oakland to already rank as the second city in the State, and insure it a promising future.
The desirability of the property, as well as the unusually easy terms and low rate of interest at which it is offered, render the present a rare opportunity for the acquisition of valuable property in the heart of this progressive city.
Maps of the property will soon be ready, and can, with further particulars, be obtained either of MAURICE DORE & CO., 326 Pine street, San Francisco, or E. C. SESSIONS & CO., 100 and 402 Eighth street, Oakland.

Regular Meetings
Of Board of Education first and second Tuesdays in each month. No meeting to-night.

Rooms and Board.
Furnished sunny rooms and good board at 514 Tenth street, two blocks from Broadway station.

Relief Hook and Ladder Company
Are doubtless at ease now, the Council having resolved to give them hose, driver, etc. There is nothing like it.

Judge Nye
And Fred Bryant (jailor) are going to take a jaunt in their own conveyance in a few days to the Pescadero and Santa Cruz region.

Odd Fellows.
Grand Representative J. B. Harmon will deliver a lecture before University Lodge, No. 144, on Thursday evening next.

Special Meeting.
There will be a special meeting of Relief Hook and Ladder Company this evening at the Armory of Oakland Guard.

County Court.
Judge Nye presiding, adjourned for the term yesterday. The local option cases were also so disposed of. Several weeks of rest will be the result.

That Monster
Show will exhibit here on Thursday and Friday, afternoon and evening. Take your family and children. If you have none, borrow somebody's else. At any rate, go.

The Police Force
Were more or less in attendance at the Council last night. No action was taken with regard to that portion of the city government, however, and the audience dispersed in good order.

Mirasole's
Adult class will meet at Laboratory Hall this evening. His new dances are becoming quite popular. His classes are select, his teaching thorough, his prices very reasonable, and we are sure his success is assured.

Sheriff Morse
Has an increased number of summonses to serve for the next court terms. We saw Jerry Tyrrel start away from the Court House yesterday with a saddle-bag full of these interesting documents for Murray township alone.

The Painters of Oakland
Have widely different views as to the price of house-painting. The bids for painting the City Hall, as opened last night, ranged all the way from $460 to $1,355. This was for two coats and gilding the belfry. P. R. Sheehan would seem to be the lowest bidder.

The City Council
Acted on a good many little items of street work—cutting down an oak tree and the building a road and half of sidewalk. The fire department composed an audience that took up all the seats in the house. These ladies stuck it out all the last item personal to them was disposed of. They will not likely be at a Council meeting again for a year, unless the department needs reorganizing, etc.

Dennis Jordan's Case
Is doubtless disposed of for better or worse. The Engineer last night reported that the would-be contractor had not commenced work on the sewer, after which the Council—paradoxically—resolved that Dennis Jordan be instructed to cease work on the sewer. Another communication from Mr. Jordan was read, in which he announced his readiness to go on with the work if the word "knots" was erased from the specifications, and not otherwise.

Sixth District Supervisor.
The nomination of Mr. O. E. Burnham, of the firm of Burnham, Standford & Co., of the Oakland Planing Mills, we are pleased to learn, meets with the hearty approval of the Oakland people in general, and those of this Supervisor District in particular. Mr. Burnham is no novice in the management of public affairs; while his reputation for industry, honesty and public spirit commend him as a man peculiarly fitted to assist in the management of our county affairs. His election is already assured.—Enquirer.

The Paid Firemen.
The City Council last night elected the following named persons as the members of the paid department, as recommended by Chief Engineer Steen:

For Felton Engine—W. T. Myles, engineerman; C. Briones, stoker; M. J. Halahan, driver of hose; M. Doody, extraman and foreman; John Dolan, W. B. Dewes, L. Silberberg, Jas. P. Bennett and Thomas Dolan, extraman.

For Phoenix Engine—Henry Vrooman, engineerman; Thos. Gunnis, stoker; Ed. Laperle, driver of hose; C. Hooley, extraman and foreman; Joseph Hill, extraman and hydrant inspector; Geo. Miller, Ed. Lefort, A. S. Baker and Wm. Ballantyne, extraman.

ALL ABOUT A LOVE TAP.

"Stubbhorse" Kellogg gets a Lick side of the Head that sends him Reeling—Woman's Rights in Oakland.

There is an old white-haired, white-eyed, white-lipped, white-livered bore about this golly burg of live oaks, commonly known as "Stubbhorse" Kellogg. He has been distinguished for ill-treatment of his wife, who got a divorce from him, and ever since which event he has been hanging around street corners and sitting on store boxes along the sidewalks, making it a business of button-holing every person who would tolerate him, and pouring into their ears his side of the story of family troubles. While not thus engaged, he has been casting sheep's eyes on the ladies that pass by, until his natural bent of mind led him to make advances of a more violent nature, and thereby hangs a tale.

There is a lady living on the corner of Third and Franklin streets, the wife of a railroad man, whom Kellogg took more than a passing interest in. He has laid in wait for her at different times, as she came up town to the postoffice, or on other errands. The first of last week, he followed her and spoke to her—said he was very much pleased with her personal appearance, or words to that effect. This sort of thing culminated on Thursday of last week, but has been kept in the family till this forenoon. Our informant says that the lady was advised by some of her friends to prepare for the beast next time, and so on Thursday afternoon she secreted a healthy ash stick—used about the house for stirring clothes in the wash—under her shawl. Sure enough, her admirer was on the look-out again, and this time with an air of business about his movements that was unmistakable. As he approached her quite closely, she asked him what he wanted with her. He replied that he "wanted to kiss those ruby lips" of hers, and with that she quickly drew the weapon aforesaid, and with both hands to it, she dealt him a blow along side of the head that sent him reeling round on the sidewalk. He recovered his equilibrium, and dodged off into his house near by, shutting the door with a vigor suggestive of entire satisfaction, so far as those "ruby lips" were concerned. The only regret is, that this love tap did not effectually break his head. It is not likely that the town possesses a greater nuisance in the human way than this creature—Kellogg.

CITY HALL BELL, ETC.

Fault has been found with the City Hall bell—chiefly that it does not make noise enough. The Council will test the matter and report in due time. The bell will probably have to be hung outside the belfry on a pole, or perhaps a live oak. Perhaps the best thing the Council can do is to let the bell hang where it is until the new Court-house is finished, and in the meantime prevail upon the county authorities to have a good bell tower constructed on that building. It is believed by experts that a bell on the new Court-house could be heard by a much larger number of people than from the standpoint of the City Hall, owing to the prevailing winds. It would be a good thing to have a bell to strike certain hours in the day. We have been requested to suggest the ringing of the City Hall bell at half-past 5 in the morning, for the benefit of the school. A good bell on the Court-house could doubtless be made generally useful, and as that structure will soon be completed there seems little use in disturbing the City Hall bell. If it is only rung when it ought to be, it will answer a very good purpose.

Irrigation in Alameda County.

The Washington and Murray Township Water Company has a 40-foot ditch, one mile and a half long, in operation. This main ditch starts at Alameda Creek, about half a mile from the county bridge at Niles, and follows nearly the course of the creek to Centerville. When complete in all its projected ramifications—some 15 miles of ditch in all—20,000 acres of land will be irrigated. Its work will for several years be confined to winter irrigation, but it is intended at some future time to construct a system of reservoirs in the neighboring mountains, which will give a constant supply of water the year round. This will insure two crops. At present, water is furnished for from 500 to 1,000 acres throughout the year. The cost of the work already done is about $5,000. Work is to be resumed in the fall.—Centerville Correspondent Rural Press.

The Fire Last Night.

At half-past three o'clock last night, or this morning as you will, the alarm was sounded for fire. The cause was a fire at the south-east corner of Fifth and Webster streets, in the residence of G. T. LaFleche, a story and a half frame house. Felton engine was early on the ground, and partly saved the shell of the building. The inside of the dwelling was cleaned out. The building and contents were insured in Phoenix Co. for $1,500, which will cover the loss. The belief is that the house was set on fire intentionally. The Phoenix engine was out, but did not reach the scene. Felton was sufficient, there being a hydrant near by.

Walking Down Broadway

We met a friend, dressed in the height of fashion. Being naturally inquisitive, we learned that the stylish clothes were one of Harris Bros' $15 suits. Oh Lord, how cheap!

Col. John Scott

Is likely to have to keep the lot at the foot of Broadway, which he desired the City to pay taxes on, etc. The City has no need for it, and the City Attorney's decision in the matter is also right.

THE BIG SHOW.

Montgomery Queen's Great World's Fair Coming to Oakland—Thursday and Friday next, Day and Evening.

The gigantic zoological and equestrian exhibition will be in Oakland this week, to perform on the afternoons and evenings of Thursday and Friday. The menagerie and circus is said to be one of the most extensive concerns traveling. We do not believe there is a man, woman or child in this city who has not read or heard of the great show. It is a newly organized, gorgeously equipped and most brilliant equestrian company, and spoken of by the press in the highest terms.

Little Mollie Brown, whose equal does not exist, is the only lady somersault rider in the world, and her act is alone worth the price of admission. Then there are Leopold and Geraldine, the great trapeze artists; the two inimitable clowns, Nat Austin and Billy Burke; Romeo Sebastian, an old favorite although so young, the great Anglo-American somersault rider; Charles and Carrie Austin, the famous musket drill artists, and a full troupe of equestrians, acrobats, volti-geurs, gymnasts, etc.

The menagerie comprises a large collection of rare animals, among which are a genuine black-maned African lion, the largest ever captured; monster royal Bengal tigers, African lionesses, eland, genuine Barbary zebra, sacred cow and calf, Japanese swine, river hog, Peruvian llama, Kangaroo, Bengal and Cheeta leopards, the largest elephant ever in California, panthers, hyenas, and many others of equal rarity.

"MISTAKEN IDEAS."

The Board of Education could not do better than take action on the following article from an exchange, entitled "Mistaken Ideas." If parents could somehow be forced to inquire into the ways of the schools by personal observation, it would be an improvement on the compulsory education law. Parents are usually less attentive to school matters than any part of their affair:

"Most people who have children to be educated, pretend to have a lively interest in schools; but they are mistaken. If they will but stop and think how little they have done for their advancement, they will at once conclude they have no right to be claimed as friends. They may wish the system well, and fondly hope that it may be successful in making their children well educated men and women; but aside from this, and paying taxes, which by law they are compelled to do, they do nothing. They do not visit the school room or teacher to render assistance, if necessary. They make no effort to stimulate the children to study, or encourage the teacher to more active efforts. In short they do nothing except to reserve the right to find fault with all that is done by others. Many parents judge from the proficiency of their children in different studies they pursue, by the class they are in, judging that if a boy or girl is placed among older or further advanced pupils, they must certainly be doing well. But it is a mistake. Knowing this weakness on the part of parents, teachers frequently promote pupils when they ought not to and when the promotion is an absolute injury to the child. Many parents think their children the only smart intellectual ones that attend the school, but it is a mistake; there are always others who are their equals. Most parents judge of the usefulness of a boy by the proficiency he shows while young. This is also a mistake; some of the ablest men were the dullest pupils. Parents think their Johnny ought to be in the same class as their neighbor's boy of the same age, that he is just as smart, etc.; but they are mistaken. Children do not all develop alike; some mature young, and some do not. There is as much difference in children as in grown people. All are not alike, and were not intended to be.

Police Court.

Robert Keenan, drunk and disorderly, was fined $40 or twenty days. He was very disagreeable on the street last Sunday.

John Williams, plain drunk, $6 or three days.

Sarah Cain was found guilty yesterday of keeping a disorderly house, and left $20 with the court as bail to put in appearance to-day. She has not appeared and the city retains the $20.

John Walter, Wm. May and James Dunstow are to be tried to-morrow for assaulting Chas. J. Wilkinson on the corner of Seventh and Market streets.

The case of those young men charged with assaulting a woman on Saturday night, was dismissed. The testimony of the lady herself was not conclusive as to their guilt. She was not certain that they intended any violence at all.

Coroner's Verdict.

The case of the man found dead in bed yesterday morning, as mentioned in the Tribune of last evening, was before a Coroner's jury to-day, the verdict of which was in substance that the man's name was Asa Thomas Winslow, a native of Massachusetts, aged 42 years, and that the cause of his death was alcoholic drinks, aided by opium.

New Feature—Will Follow.

The Tribune to-day has a new feature—publishing the hotel arrivals. No paper in this city has regularly published the daily arrivals at our hotels, which we now propose doing. The Tribune and News will soon follow. At least we suppose they will, as the regularly do in other matters.

CORRESPONDENCE.

OAKLAND, AUG. 23, 1874.

Mrs. HARRIET E. BISHOP—Madam: Learning that you contemplate a return to your Eastern home, your many friends in this city desire to render you some testimonial of their regard for you as a woman and a philanthropist. During your stay in California, your time, talent and energy have been unsparingly bestowed for the good of others, without any recompense, save the satisfaction which such efforts must bring to your own heart.

If you will name a time and place agreeable to you, we desire to make arrangements for a lecture to be delivered by you, which will at the same time gratify your numerous friends and result in some substantial benefit to yourself.

HENRY DURANT, J. K. McLEAN, L. HAMILTON, GEO. MOGAR, C. V. ANTHONY, J. E. BENTON, L. P. FISHER, J. A. BRADWAY, E. P. FLINT, G. M. BLAKE, ISRAEL KNOX, W. L. BENTON, W. D. CHILSON, WM. S. HARLOW, A. I. GLADING, J. H. REDSTONE, P. H. SUMNER, S. THOMPSON, C. E. ELK, WM. KELLEY, J. PIERMAN DIXSON.

OAKLAND, Aug. 24, 1874.

HON. HENRY DURANT, REV. J. E. BENTON, DR. DIXSON, S. THOMPSON, J. H. REDSTONE and others:

GENTLEMEN:—"Time and place," Friday evening September 4th; subject chosen, "American Progress." The great work which has enthused our energies and our hearts for the last few months was for God and humanity, hence its own reward. I thank God that it has been my privilege to be in California at this time, and to bear a humble part in the work, even though to the sacrifice of strength and health. I shall bear with me to distant lands pleasant and grateful memories of the Local Option campaign, and the noble men and women with whom I have been associated. Thanking you, gentlemen, for this unmerited compliment, I am

Yours Truly,

HARRIET E. BISHOP.

Dr. Sam. Merritt. As it appeared in the Council last night, is willing to relinquish all control of the dam, that helps to form the lake with his name, except that he may want to build a boat house thereabouts sometime. The City will doubtless have no objections, to the Doctor building two boat houses, if the corporation can get a dam for nothing that cost $17,000. The idea is to settle the control of the dam while the parties are alive. The waters of the lake will be made to play an important part in the flushing of the new sewer—that Devil built.

Hoodlum Engineers.

The Chronicle this morning has the following item, which we give for what it is worth: "People who travel upon the Oakland railroad wharf in vehicles or on horseback complain that the engineers are in the habit of blowing the whistles on their locomotives for the purpose of frightening horses while the fruits are passing them, and laughing at the efforts of the drivers to restrain the frightened animals. The complainants offer to furnish their names and proof of their charges to the railroad officials."

To Let.

BOOTS AND SHOES NEATLY REPAIRED

Aged Innocence.
The other day on a Michigan Central train going east, was an old lady who had never traveled a great deal.

A cadaverous chap sat down to one of the eating stands in the market yesterday and called for seventy-five cents worth of "grub"—the best in the house.

There is nothing like dressing your local items in rhetorical flattery, even if you have to come to plain English at the end.
